What Is Attachment Parenting?

8 Natural Parenting Tips That Explain It All

Attachment parenting is a growing movement in America today. You may have seen or know of someone practicing AP. Celebrity Moms are choosing to go the way of a natural birth with a midwife more and more these days. They're choosing to be attached parents.

When you're at the park and one mother has her baby close to her wrapped in fabric, that's an attached parent. If your neighbor kids stay home to learn their ABC's instead of going to the school bus stop every morning, that household practices attachment parenting. You may have even practiced attachment parenting without knowing it.
